Notes on Financial Statements

The IAJ, starting from the current fiscal year, applies the “Accounting Standards for Public-interest Corporations” (established by the Japanese Cabinet Office’s Public Interest Commission, on April 11, 2008, and revised on October 16, 2009).

1. Important accounting policies

(1) Standards and methods for valuation of securities

The mark-to-market method based on the fair market value is applied to valuation of securities as of the last day of the fiscal year.

(2) Standards and methods of valuation of inventories

First In First Out, cost method is applied.

Only inventories acquired during and after FY2006 are booked.

(3) Method of depreciation of fixed assets

The straight-line method is applied to depreciation of tangible fixed asset.

(4) Standards for booking of reserves

- Reserve for bonuses

The anticipated amount of bonuses payable attributable to the current fiscal year is booked.

- Reserve for retirement benefits

The amount equivalent to benefits payable as of the end of the fiscal year is booked.

(5) Method of processing lease transactions

Accounting process similar to the method used for normal lease transactions is used for finance lease transactions excluding those in which the ownership of the leased item is deemed to transfer to the lessee.

(6) Accounting for consumption tax and other taxes.

Consumption tax and other taxes are booked by the tax included method.

2. Changes to accounting policies

“Accounting Standards for Public-interest Corporations” (established by the Japanese Cabinet Office’s Public Interest Commission, on April 11, 2008, and revised on October 16, 2009) is applied from the current fiscal year, while “Accounting Standards for Public-interest Corporations” (October 14, 2004, Arrangement of Concerned Ministries and Agencies Concerning Guidance and Supervision, etc. of Public-interest Corporation, etc.) had been previously applied.

The amount of changes in net assets for the current year is not affected by this change.
